3. What reason did Jaffers give for taking the invisible man in the custody?
Ans. Jaffers said that he wanted to take the invisible man in to the custody because there was a robbery that morning in the priest's house and all the circumstances pointed to the invisible man being the culprit.
4. How did the invisible man finally break free of Jaffer's grasp? What happened to Jaffers?
Ans. Jaffers had caught hold of the invisible man, who in turn held Jaffers painfully by the neck.
However, Jaffers collapsed under the group of people trying to move out of the front door of the inn and as his head hit the hard road, the invisible man broke free of his hold and escaped. Jaffers was left to the ground with his face looking up the sky, suggesting that he died in the commotion.
V. Think and answer.
1. The invisible man did not want to be handcuffed. What do you think was his reason for resisting handcuffs?
Ans. He did not think the police had enough reason to arrest him.
<ol><li>"Here, stop that!" shouted Jaffers,</li></ol> understanding now what was happening. What did Jaffers understand was happening? Give the answer by completing Jaffers' s unfinished dialogue : "Hold him! If he gets his clothes off" Ans. When the invisible was removing the different items of his clothing, Jaffers immediately understood that he was trying to escape.
Therefore, he said, "Hold him! If he gets his clothes off, he would escape. Although invisible, he could still be still be spotted by his clothes that are visible. But if he succeeds in getting rid of
